CTC Coventry & CTC Rugby - Weekly Bulletin

10th February 2021

It is always a pleasure to receive pictures of what you have been doing during lock down, so thank you, Libby Foster, for the bunch of photos in the main picture - there's quite a bit of talk about cycleways at present and it's good to see how well the Coundon Cycleway is progressing - the section alongside Bablake playing fields on Hollyfast Road is well underway, with just the top layer missing. It's very impressive and certainly well segregated from pedestrians and motorists.

Also thank you, Jeff Palethorpe, for the short video you can download here.

Various sections of the Coundon Cycleway, in course of construction.

We now have a campaigning blog on the website, which can be accessed at:

In particular, George Riches has added a post about the Coventry Canal Basin:

Have a look at how the planning for this highways project around Warwick University is progressing.

And here is the answer to last week's puzzle plus another teaser from Dave Hearn:

This is the River Nidd in Knaresborough.

We have a historical theme this week with two images. Our club was formed in Harrogate as depicted by the plaque and the colourful stained glass commemorates the Tour de France Grand Depart in 2014.

The club was formed as "The Bicycle Touring Club" in 1878 and was renamed "The Cyclists' Touring Club" in 1883, but the question is: In what year did the iconic 'Winged Wheel' become the clubs symbol?
